About

Jessie Harris, a Member in Williams Kastner's Seattle office, is available to serve as a mediator for cases involving employment law and discrimination, professional liability, personal injury, and contractual disputes. He brings nearly 30 years of legal experience to the dispute resolution process. Through his representation of institutional and individual clients, Jessie is recognized in the legal community as a trusted advisor who brings a calm, sensible and pragmatic approach to the mediation process. He is also a certified neutral for U.S. District Court for the Western District of Washington, having attended The Straus Institute for Dispute Resolution at Pepperdine University School of Law.

Jessie applies a combination of his legal expertise and trained mediation skills to facilitate negotiations and guide parties towards resolution. He is able to identify the factual and legal issues that divide parties and recommend thoughtful and productive solutions based on the facts and legal aspects of the case.

Services

As each mediation situation is unique and personal, Jessie is committed to understanding the issues most important to the participants to help parties avoid the costs and risks of protracted litigation.

- Flexible scheduling to meet the needs of attorneys and their clients
- Offering virtual and in-person sessions
